PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS:

- Capstone: Seminar in English (ENG 490)

Mission: The mission of the English program is to offer a wide range of courses in literature and writing to prepare students for graduate study and careers in teaching and other professions.

Description of Major: In an increasingly information-based economy, McKendree University's English major teaches students to read closely, think critically, and write well.

As students pursue an English major, they develop a better understanding of the cultural, historical, ethical, aesthetic, and linguistic dimensions that shape all of us. Students refine their analytical and research skills as they learn to write with clarity, coherence, creativity, and precision. As the English major progresses from introductory surveys to its capstone course, students complete increasingly more challenging assignments and perform a more in-depth analysis of literary texts and genres.

Through class discussions, lectures, events and student groups such as Sigma Tau Delta and the Literary Interest Society, the English department faculty and students strive to create and nourish a rich intellectual environment. In addition, publications such as The McKendree Review and Montage offer venues for students to publish their work.

To major in English, a student must complete at least 24 credit hours of English courses at McKendree.

In addition to the courses required for the English/secondary education track, it is also recommended that students in secondary education take one or more writing courses in the professional writing track. In addition, it is recommended that secondary education English majors with an interest in teaching drama and theatre take Dramatic Literature and/or any theatre (THE) course as electives as well as participate in the university's theatre productions. General education and professional education requirements must also be met for licensure. These are listed in the section titled "Initial Secondary License" in the courses of study section of this catalog under Education.

Students who are considering graduate school in English should make an effort to take as many of the following courses as possible: ENG 303 and ENG 304. These courses should enhance students' performance on the English Graduate Record Examination.

Students should check the general education portion of the catalog to determine which English courses will satisfy the general education literature requirement and the general education cross-cultural requirement.

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will:

- Enhance their skills in oral and written communication.
- Develop the ability to read and interpret literature critically.
- Develop the ability to appreciate literature and respond to it intellectually, aesthetically, and effectively.
- Understand their own cultural heritage as well as the cultural heritage of others.
- Enhance their sensitivity to and understanding of language.
- Improve their skills in written communication: invention, drafting, revising, editing, and polishing.

Preparation: English is recognized as an excellent pre-professional major in such fields as law, medicine, business, federal service, and publishing. The skills in writing, critical thinking, and analysis learned by the English major provide a solid preparation for the prospective writer, editor, lawyer, teacher, public relations worker, and advertising or business executive.
