

Study Debriefing

This study is concerned with the topic of interest. Previous studies have found that baseline findings from the literature, with your interest explained here.

How was this tested?

In this study, you were tasked with whatever the student is trying to find out.

Hypotheses and main questions:

We expect to find whatever you anticipate. We also sought to determine if alternative solutions or findings are expected, explain here.

Why is this important to study?

The perception of your study's contribution should be addressed briefly here.

What if I want to know more?

If you would like to receive a report of this research when it is completed (or a summary of the findings), please contact please contact Student's Name at 618-###-### and studentemail@mckendree.edu or Good Teacher at (618) 537-#### and instructoremail@mckendree.edu.

If you have concerns about your rights as a participant in this experiment, please contact the McKendree University IRB at irb@mckendree.edu
Thank you again for your participation.

Remove the following prior to distribution:

Indicate that this information will be given to the participants after the study and fill in areas in italics with your specific study information.