1 Concerned by the fact that Syria is currently involved in its sixth year of civil war since the outbreak
2 in March, 2011, which has led to the need of humanitarian aid for 13.5 million people within Syria,
3 over 6 million of which are internally displaced, and the fleeing of 4.8 million Syrian refugees to 4 neighboring countries, and

5
6 Expressing deep concern that The UN Refugee Agency (UNHCR) has predicted that 8.7 million
7 people will be displaced inside Syria in 2016, and

8
9 Recognizing that many neighboring countries, including Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan, Egypt, and Iraq,
10 have taken in millions of refugees, helping the cause to provide humanitarian aid to Syrian refugees, 11 and

13 Reaffirming (once again) the tremendous work Turkey has done to provide accommodations for the 14 2.7 million Syrians taking refuge in Turkey by means of 23 refugee camps that have provided for 15 260,000 Syrians, and

16
17 Noting with grave concern that not all of Syria's neighboring countries have been able to provide 18 shelters or accommodations for the Syrian refugees, such as in Lebanon, where there no formal
19 refugee camps and 70 percent of Syrians are living below the poverty line of 3.84 USD per person 20 per day, and

RECOGNIZING that the Syrian Refugee Crisis has seen half of Syria's pre-war population, more than 11 million people, displaced from their homes in the conflict between the Syrian Government and the Free Syrian Army, and

NOTING that families still inside Syria are struggling to survive amidst the turmoil with basic necessities such as food and medical care being sparse, and children affected by the crisis are at risk of becoming ill, malnourished, abused, or exploited, and

EMPHASIZING the importance of providing aid to these people so that they may survive and have access to all rights granted by the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948, for example

- a) Everyone has the right to life, liberty, and security of person (Article 3)
- b) Everyone has the right to seek and to enjoy in other countries asylum from persecution (Article 14.1)

DISAPPOINTED in the condition of the financially unstable refugee camps in neighboring countries, which have forced many refugees to make the trek to Europe, and that the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees' (UNHCR) plea for international donations has only garnered under 40% of its $4.5 billion request, and

STRESSING that most of the United Nations' humanitarian agencies rely on voluntary contributions from countries, corporations, and individuals, and that the lack of monetary aid forces aid agencies to adjust, such as the decision made by the World Food Program (WFP) unfortunately cutting off aid for 360,000 Syrian refugees in Middle East and North African camps and slashing food rations for over 1.5 million more refugees, and

APPROVING the UNHCR's Regional Refugee and Resilience Plan (3RP), which calls for $4.55 billion to support 4.8 million refugees in neighboring countries and 4 million in the communities hosting them, followed by the 2016 Syria Humanitarian Response Plan, seeking $3.2 billion to provide humanitarian support and protection to 13.5 million people inside Syria;

- 1) ENDORSES the aforementioned efforts by the United Nations and their humanitarian agencies such as UNHCR and the WFP to help the refugees in the present and their eagerness to bring awareness and aid to this issue;
- 2) FURTHER REMINDS the UN to make specific provisions for refugee children, which make up 50% of the refugees, with emphasis on
  - a) Providing free or affordable education as they may have been without school for years during this conflict, and that a proper education may help them adjust to life after the war
  - b) Counseling and therapy as many children are unable to understand the war that has taken the lives of their friends and family
  - c) A safe environment to live in with an appropriate upbringing as many of these children are orphaned and have no guardian to make decisions on their behalf;
- 3) URGES a movement on the education of the issue, as many countries may be hesitant to help due to the majority of refugees consisting of Sunni Muslims and the actions of extremist group ISIS/ISIL increasing Islamophobia worldwide;
- 4) REQUESTS member nations to aid Syria's neighbors such as Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq, and Serbia who host many refugee camps;
- 5) SUGGESTS improved migration of refugees to Europe or North America to seek asylum/refuge and lessen the strain on the African/Middle Eastern countries who currently support the majority of Syrian refugees.

NOTING that after Pakistan's great recession in the economy, child labor has skyrocketed, leaving many both boys and girls, between the ages of 11 and 15, forced into prostitution and/or underage labor, and

FULLY AWARE that as if the problem weren't widespread enough, half of Pakistan's 166 million people today, are children. Considering that statistic, we have to remember that in regards to child labor, the government has reported that they rescued 1,871 "bonded labor victims". Pertaining to prostitution, statistics have shown that in 2013, penal/criminal codes were used 138 times relating to trafficking cases, in comparison to in 2012 when prosecution for this problem happened only 80 times, and

GRAVELY CONCERNED of the inhumane treatment and work of young children, At any given time, two to four million (+) people in Pakistan are known to be subjected to bonded labor, Bonded labor is slavery, Not only is this is inhumane, but in no way does this help the economy of this country, which to state once again, started this problem in the first place. Being captured, bought, sold, or rented to be placed in organized begging rings, domestic servitude, and are being forced into prostitution, and

COGNIZANT of nation's efforts to resolve this issue, they've continued to fail, the country's government decided that public authority should raid small businesses and buildings to ensure that no human traffic goes unnoticed, but then charges and blames the victim, stating that they're willful participants of the crime, ultimately leaving no justice and no resolution, and

RECOGNIZING that although, Pakistan's government is neglected to take the sufficient steps to inform immigrants about human trafficking;

- 1.) ENCOURAGES overall betterment of the justice systems and focus on human rights and equality;
- 2.) REQUESTS we try and focus hard on stressing the rights of children and continue to treat them as actual human beings and to encourage the law;
- 4.) RECOMMENDS that the UN could help reiterate the laws of a child's rights as a human being and stress that the victims of trafficking and exploitation are NOT the problem;
- 5.) EXPRESSES THE HOPE that if every square inch of this Earth unites to fix these major problems we create permanent solidarity.

3 between the years 2010 and 2012, and

4
5 MINDFUL that 24 hour hotlines have been installed in many third world countries in order to 6 track and secure those missing children, and

7
8 TAKING INTO ACCOUNT that the Global Missing Children's Network was established in 9 1998, and since then has gathered with 22 other countries in an effort to rapidly find missing 10 children, and

11
12 RECOGNIZING that there are multiple countries around the globe that have children go missing
13 every day, and that companies such as the IMEC have aided an abundance of these countries and 14 since have lowered the missing children rates, and

15
16 BEARING IN MIND that the first three hours of a child's disappearance is crucial, seeing as 17 how most are severely injured or even killed once the three hour mark has passed, and

- 18
19 1) REQUESTS that all countries install a missing children hotline in all countries, 20 not just those with the financial capability, in hopes of lowering the rates of 21 missing children;
22
23 2) STRESSES the importance of social media, such as Facebook and Instagram, in 24 which nations can spread the word of these missing and exploited children
25 quickly and to a wider range of people;
26
27 3) SUGGESTS that countries invest more money into a more developed training 28 academy for police/military in regards to the fact that these children could be in 29 the hands of someone far more lethal than the police are equipped for at this given 30 moment;
31
32 4) APPEALS to all countries that they should be involved with or establish a 33 program such as IMEC which can aid in giving those countries with a lesser 34 amount of resources in bringing these children home;
35
36 5) URGES the cooperation of neighboring countries to join together and aid each 37 other in searching for these children with the goal of retrieving them in the

1 TAKING INTO CONSIDERATION eight million children go missing worldwide each year, and 2 that every two minutes a child goes missing in Europe, approximately 250,000 children go
3 missing each year in Europe, in 2014 the average age for a child to go missing is age fourteen,
4

5 KEEPING IN MIND a missing child’s appearance is usually changed when a child has runaway
6 or been abducted so that they are unrecognizable to an amber alert, and seventy five percent of 7 missing children were found within one month, fifty seven percent of missing children were girls
8 and forty three percent were boys,
9

10 RECOGNIZING that fifty one percent of missing children that are called into 116 000 are 11 runaways usually caused by, neglect, abuse, or conflict, runaways makes up the majority of 12 missing children,
13

14 DEEPLY DESTURBED by the fact that in seventy to eighty five percent of the children sexual 15 exploitation cases the child knows the abuser, one in five children take part in any sort of sexual 16 violence,
17

- 18 1. DRAWS ATTENTION to how fast missing children's cases go cold, efforts need to be 19 advanced on how hard everyone is working to keep children safe, urging parents to get
20 their children's fingerprints taken, store their DNA, and keep a current photo on hand;
21
- 22 2. ENCOURAGES for the government to urge the public to look into ReMUMber app, to 23 help children memorize any important number by reciting it when you open the device;
24
- 25 3. STRESSES that a missing person’s report is made out as soon as the child is abducted or 26 has runaway, every country needs to have access to an amber alert system, calls for a 27 response team, so that all countries are instantly prepared ahead of time so they can react

- 16 1. Promoting the help and support of other local authorities to grow massif search and 17 rescue groups between ground and air, as this could be a huge operation there are many 18 ideas that still need to be brainstormed, but there are many options and possibilities that 19 still could be done;
 20
- 21 2. Suggests that everyone takes on the governments precautions as well as make their own, 22 inforce their own precautions and take a stand on this major growing problem, as this is 23 something that everyone needs to be educated about;
 24
- 25 3. Advocates the help from the surrounding countries, physically, supportively, financially, 26 and whatever help that we can provide to other countries, as many of them are dealing 27 with the same problem that we are trying to fix, fix it to make sure this has been cut down

3 RECOGNIZING that government laws do not fully protect and cover standards for the 4 elimination of trafficking allowing heavy trafficking to go unnoticed and unprevented, and 5

6 NOTING WITH REGRET, sufficient resources and assistance are not devoted to victims of 7 internal trafficking crimes, while illegitimate hiring companies exploit people into trafficking, 8 and
9

10 EXPRESSING DEEP CONCERN as new efforts to stop the exploiting of children, men and 11 women, as counter-trafficking persons office (CTIP) and the anti-trafficking task force have 12 been created, as well as launching a nationwide awareness campaign, more trafficking 13 offenders have been prosecuted, and 14

15 REALIZING cases have fallen through as offenders of forced labor and sex trafficking have 16 yet to be convicted under the 2009 Prevention of Trafficking in Persons Act;
17

- 18 1) CALLS UPON all-inclusive anti-trafficking legislation to continue to be developed
19 and the reach of the CTIP office and other collaborators to be extended as the efforts 20 to convict and punish these offenders are increased as justice needs to be dealt for 21 morally wrong crimes and injustices done;
22
- 23 2) EXPRESSES THE HOPE of unifying a documentation system that contains all of the 24 collected data on human trafficking and forced labor cases for law enforcement use as 25 well as social welfare and labor officials for an easier way of investigating and 26 punishing criminals committing these offences;
27
- 28 3) COMMENDS the public awareness campaign to be expanded with added focus on 29 forced labor while regulating the definition of trafficking so that the accused have a 30 consistent judgement based on their crimes;
31
- 32 4) DECLARES that victims of trafficking and forced labor be given consultation and 33 allowance to be directed to organizations that can provide proper care when needed, 34 to insure their well being is preserved;
