5
6 STRESSING Ukraine's importance as a buffer state of enormous strategic value to Russia as

8
9 REITERATING the point that Putin has made on many occasions that if NATO encroaches on

1 Empathizing that the situation in Eastern Europe is very important because it threatens the peace
2 of this area, of the world, and of all nations nearby or involved. Because of this it should be dealt
3 with immediately, and
4

5 Realizing that this tension between the nation of Russia and Ukraine could lead to further
6 complications and conflict that would affect many people because if this situation did escalate it
7 would certainly lead to lives being lost and relations between nations being hurt, and 8

9 Recognizing that the interest of Russia and Ukraine are very different, and the UN should respect
10 both nations' views and ideas to come to a peaceful conclusion, and 11

12 Stressing that Russia has sent combat troops into Ukraine during August and September of 2014
13 when they were unprovoked by Ukraine to do so. They did so without writing a declaration of 14 war, and they still have thousands of troops in Ukraine that need to be dealt with, and 15

16 Welcoming the nations that have sanctioned Russia because this may damage Russia's economy
17 so badly that they pull troops out of Ukraine without the UN having to take military action
18 against Russia, and 19

20 Knowing that even though there has been a cease fire Russian ground forces are still operating in 21 Ukraine, and
22

23 Encouraging further action taken against Russia to stop this conflict as quickly and as peacefully
24 as possible:
25

- 26 A. Urges other countries represented in the UN to stop trade with Russia, and 27 urging countries that have sanctioned to continue to do so aggressively;
28
- 29 B. Deplores all Russian politicians and leaders involved in this invasion especially 30 Russian president Vladimir Putin;
31
- 32 C. Request military action against Russia if they escalate their hostility towards 33 Ukraine, and if they continue to push deeper into Ukraine.
